Brown County Dairy Promotions is pleased to announce scholarships available for students from Brown County enrolling in an agriculture related major at any College or Tech School. Examples of eligible majors include traditional production agriculture majors like dairy science, the Farm and Industry Short Course at UW-River Falls, soil science and agronomy. Other qualifying majors include biochemistry, genetics, molecular biology, forestry, horticulture, environmental science and more. Applicants must be attending or have attended a Brown County High School. The number of scholarships awarded will depend on the number of qualified applicants. Each amount awarded will be $1,000 to graduating high school seniors and/or students completing their first year of college/trade school. The Board of Brown County Dairy Promotions will make the selections. All decisions are final. Each applicant must return the attached application form to Brown County Dairy Promotions at bcdp.scheduling@gmail.com by April 1st. The Selection Committee must also be provided with three letters of recommendation by that date. Instructions for writing letters of recommendation are included below. Selection will be based on the application and the letters of recommendation. The purpose of the scholarship is to encourage deserving young men and women to pursue further education to better equip them for the operation of a farm or to assume employment and leadership responsibilities in another phase of agriculture. Payment of the scholarship will be made to the institution after they have enrolled and started classes in the fall. Electronic applications are not currently available. Applications may be handwritten and scanned in or typed up in a word document. Typed applications are strongly encouraged.
